To whom it may concern,

I, Everett Abrams, officially resign as President of the Power Washers of North America (PWNA). I am no longer a contractor in the power washing business which disqualifies me as President. At this time I am also not able to continue in my duties as President for personal reasons as well. I will do whatever I possibly can to help in any actions needed to transition to the next step in PWNA's future. I apologize to those who feel I have let them down in any way.

Sincerely,
Everett Abrams
